CAREER OPPORTUNITIES SERIES

REPORT

On the 18th of May 2021, between 10:30 a.m. to 11:15 a.m., a webinar was held on, “Awareness and opportunities in Cyber Security”. The departments of Humanities and Science and the Department of Computer Science Engineering hosted this webinar in collaboration and a total of around 78 students attended the webinar. The resource person was Dr. Pattathil Dhanya Menon the director of Avanzo cyber security solutions Pvt.Ltd, who was introduced by Dr Jennifer G Joseph, Professor and Head of Humanities and Sciences & convener of the series and also by Dr. S. Rajaprakash, Professor and Head, department of CSE. She spoke on the importance of data protection and the differences between legal hacking and illegitimate hacking. She spoke on every aspect in which data is breached and taken in non-ethical ways and how to control it and completely prevent it. She explained everything in a way in which students could easily relate to and every student was benefitted from her lively session. She addressed many issues that students struggle with and also had a question and answer session during the last ten minutes during which a few students asked her a few questions which she was happy to answer in a way in which the students could relate to. The bottom-line of her speech was “There’s a way to do everything ethically and do it in the ethical way” The students thanked her for her wonderful session and expressed their gratitude to the speaker. She also volunteered to come back for another session if one was arranged by the authorities. Finally Dr. Jennifer G Joseph and Dr.S. Rajaprakash thanked the chief guest for her valuable time and guidance to the students. Dr. Jennifer G Joseph in her vote of Thanks also placed on record her gratitude to the principal. Dr. K.L. Shunmuganathan for being instrumental in arranging this Career Opportunities Series.
