The population of elders and life expectancy have both increased as a result of advancements in healthcare and growing health consciousness, which has also led to an increase in the prevalence of health-related and psychosocial issues that affect the aged. There are developments that have been perceived as a reduction in other social functions, such as the joint family system, in developing nations like India. Older adults now encounter challenges in their lives as a result of these developments. Youth should therefore be conscious of these issues and have a constructive outlook on the senior members of their community. Parents are solely focused on their children's education. They've forgotten that it's also their responsibility to instill in kids a sense of social and familial values. Hence the UBA, under Institutional social Responsibility cell inculcate to the above said values to the budding youth has organized invited talk on “Today’s youth for Yesteryear’s youth” by Ms.Amirtha Bagavath sihi , lawyer in Federal law Consultancy, Chengalpet on 30th Jan 2024 on the account of Youth Day celebration. Dr.B.Prabasheela, Professor and UBA coordinator welcomed the gathering and honoured the guest speaker. In her address Ms.Amirtha, discussed about the various problems faced by the elders and the ways in which the youth can take steps to rectify it. The session was so interactive and ended with the Vote of thanks.
